

Dual Degree in Finance

A collaboration between
Antwerp Management School &
Fordham Gabelli School of Business

Thanks to an international collaborative agreement between Antwerp Management School (AMS) and the well-ranked Fordham University's Gabelli School of Business (GSB) in New York, students and recent graduates of the Master in Finance are offered a dual-degree opportunity: you can complement your education and obtain a second degree in only 3 weeks by joining Fordham University's Gabelli School of Business (GBS) Master of Science in Global Finance (MSGF).

Antwerp Management School in Antwerp

Established in 1959, Antwerp Management School (AMS) is an autonomous business school of University of Antwerp. It is one of the few top business schools worldwide accredited by AACSB. According to the latest worldwide ranking of Masters of Finance (QS 2020), our Master in Finance program is ranked 33rd, while the tuition fee is the lowest among the Top 40 master of finance program around the world.

AMS is a dynamic, innovative and customer-oriented business school, fueled by an empowered team and a strong mission statement. At AMS, we look beyond the mere transfer of technical knowledge. As our mission statement explicitly mentions, we also want to stimulate your self-reflection and personal development. We believe the clearer your self-image, the more effectively you will be able to work in a group setting, act as a responsible leader, and impact the business world. We will open your mind to impact the world.

Fordham Gabelli School of Business in New York

Located in New York City, the commercial capital of the world, Fordham is uniquely positioned to offer students the opportunity to participate in both regional and international economies. Its reputation continues to be built upon excellence in teaching and scholarship. Students benefit from a dedicated faculty and the larger university community of undergraduate, graduate and professional schools and are nourished by Fordham's intellectual and Jesuit traditions. In keeping with these traditions, the Gabelli School is committed to serving students in their lifelong learning endeavors.

Program

As a student of the MSGF program, you will learn how to implement corporate goals through financial strategies that use the opportunities available in today's global financial markets. You will complete three upper level finance courses.

The MSGF Collaborative Program consists of 30 credits or 10 courses delivered at both AMS in Antwerp and Fordham GSB in New York. The courses consist of three parts as described below. Please note that course information is subject to final confirmation.

Four foundation courses to be completed at AMS in Antwerp:

- → Advanced Corporate Finance
- → Real Estate Finance *
- → Advanced Investment Analysis
- → Computer Applications in Finance

Three Fordham off-site courses to be completed at AMS in Antwerp:

- → Global Financial Markets
- → Raising Capital and Investing in Global Financial Markets
- → Contemporary Issues in Global Finance

Three Fordham on-site courses to be completed at Fordham in New York:

- → Global Equity Portfolio Management
- → Machine Learning for Finance
- → Global Risk Management.

Fordham Gabelli School of Business reserves the right to revise and update the list of courses offered to AMS students on a yearly basis. Fordham on-site courses will be offered in an intensive format of 1 course per week.

After graduation from Fordham GSB, which will take place in August, you will have the unique advantage of receiving a master's degree from a well-known American University, you will come home with an excellent understanding of financial services and you will join a network of Fordham University graduates worldwide.

^{*} Real Estate Finance is one of our elective courses. Students who are interested in applying to the dual degree collaborative program must select this elective.

Admission

Tuition Fee

The tuition charges for the MSGF Collaborative program are around $20,374.00 and tuition has to be paid when students enroll for Fordham courses. Fordham Gabelli School of Business reserves the right to revise and update the tuition fee offered to AMS students on a yearly basis.

This tuition already reflects financial aid offered by Fordham GSB. An extra scholarship could be offered to selected AMS students which could lower the total per student tuition.

Living expenses in New York are also additional to the tuitions and fees. We would advise students to budget at least $2,000 for living expenses for their stay in New York. These amounts may be subject to change from year to year.

Application Procedure

All students who are enrolled in the Master in Finance program at Antwerp Management School will receive more information about the MSGF collaborative program and admission criteria at the start of the academic year.

"The collaborative MSGF program with Fordham University was highly intensive and very well structured. Being able to achieve a second master's degree in an additional three weeks was exciting, and the acquired knowledge from the machine learning and portfolio management courses were great components to further supplement the teaching from AMS' Master in Finance."
